Y Americans Leave To N.Y. For Show With Ed Sullivan

The Y Americans, patriotic singing group left Salt Lake City Thursday night for New York City to appear on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Their nationwide performance over CBS is scheduled for Sunday at 6 p.m. (mountain time).

LEAVE AGAIN

They will leave from Salt Lake Airport at 11:55 p.m. and return to BYU Monday. Tuesday they will leave again for a tour of Southern California.

They originally were booked on the Ed Sullivan Show on Apr. 16, but were rescheduled because of the recent television strike.

The exciting organization of 50 students fosters patriotism through song and narration. It was organized by the Student Culture Office last September to portray their love of God and country in a stirring new fashion.

IN DEMAND

Since performing at a BYU assembly in October, they have been in demand for appearances at schools, universities, civic clubs, church gatherings and conventions.

Wherever they have presented their show, the Y Americans have been received enthusiastically, and nearly all of their audiences have given them standing ovations. Many civic leaders have praised them for their efforts in a time when patriotism seems on the decrease.

FOLK SONGS

Included in the repertoire of the Y Americans are several songs popularized by the "Sing Out" casts throughout the country, plus many other folk-type songs such as "Born Free," "My Name is Liberty," "No Man Is An Island," and "The Impossible Dream."

The organization is directed by Ted Buckland, a freshman student from Chico, Calif., who started a similar group in his home town after he returned from a mission to England for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

MBA Director Clarifies Rumors About Company

Dr. Robert Daines, Master of Business Administration director, squelched a belief that the newly formed Olympic Investment Group "had received special support and sponsorship of the University," in a statement Thursday.

"The Olympic Investment Group is simply recruiting as any other employer might," said Daines. "The offers and terms of employment should be examined carefully by the student, as with any other company's offer."

"The extraordinarily high income suggested is indeed possible, as is true of most direct, straight commission, salesman jobs but is not typical or guaranteed," he said.

FRONT END LOAD

Dr. Daines mentioned that the company hopes to be organized soon. Presently all costs including transportation and living expenses must be borne by the salesman. The company uses a "front end load" type of commission which, though not illegal internationally, has been outlawed in several states in the U.S. to protect the public from possible abuses.

"As members of the Business Management Department we are greatly concerned about the broad ramifications of this company and its approach and the great risk which would be assumed by the students who accept this offer," stated Dr. Baines. "Therefore, we would like to meet with all interested students in room 115 of the Jesse Knight Bldg. today at 4:10 p.m."

"MM Elite" Pays Well For BYU

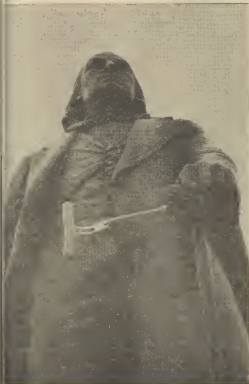

So far, "Project MM Elite" has brought more than $170,000 into the pockets of BYU students.

Nearly 1,800 students and faculty members are involved in the operation which has monopolized the Wilkinson Center Games Room for the past three weeks.

Each student worker is paid $1.50 per hour, and supervisors are paid $2.00 per hour. Since there are four shifts a day of four hours each, the daily payroll amounts to approximately $10,800.

The money is coming out of the pocket of Metromedia Corp., of New York, which has contracted with BYU to tabulate the results of a survey the corporation is conducting. This required the hiring of hundreds of students to do the paper work involved.

Project workers spend their time scanning questionnaires which have been filled out by people across the country. They code the information from these questionnaires onto printed forms, which are then fed into a machine that produces an IBM card using the information on them. These IBM cards are processed through BYU's computer, which checks the information for accuracy, then records it on tape for use by Metromedia's computers.

Come, Come Ye Frosh

Brigham Bash," a barbecue sponsored by the Freshman Class, will be at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the quad between the Eyring Science Center and the Joseph Smith Bldg. Admission is 25 cents. "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" will also be shown.

Freedom For Others Too...

Morgan Mixes Wit, Wisdom

By Les Chipman
Universe Staff Writer

th the barbed wit that has become his trade mark, Henry Morgan made pointed evaluations of recent events as he sees it. Speaking at the forum assembly Thursday, he speeded his comments with humor which drew frequent laughter and applause.

Though Morgan disclaimed any right to teach his audience anything, he did deliver a message overtones of wisdom.

Most of his comments were made in answer to questions submitted in advance, written prior to the assembly.

He believes "kids on LSD are going around with brains that scarcely there."

In answer to a question about moderators over the span of our time, his comment was, "more day and fewer people are aware of their obligations."

His caustic humor began with his first utterance, but his last sentence, relating to the amount of freedom of speech America can afford, was a marked change to a serious tone. He said, "you can have freedom of speech as much and as long as you let others have it."

Morgan's retort to Professor Dallas Brunson's introduction was, "I'd never thought about retiring before you brought up the length of time I've been in show business. Who asked you (to bring it up)?"

Referring to an inquiry about Johnny Carson and the recent radio and television strike, he quipped, "Johnny will be coming back now that his plot to own NBC fell through."

Concerning governments roll in controlling freedom of the press, the wry comedian pulled no punches.

He said to keep government where it belongs. The government is not God. It is to serve the people... don't let it get hold of the freedom of the press. Freedom is in reading."

About the influence and value of paper back books he exclaimed with enthusiasm, "Paper backs are marvelous. People now know that Aristotle really existed."

Polynesia Week Ends Today With Displays, Entertainment

"Polynesia Calls" will end today with displays and entertainment coloring the Step-Down Lounge of the Wilkinson Center.

One of the outstanding events of the week was Thursday's luau served in the Wilkinson Center main ballrooms and highlighted by authentic Polynesian entertainment.

BYU's South Sea Culture representatives will be on hand to explain their arts, crafts, and culture to interested viewers.

Lindsay Calls For Raise In Poverty Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mayor V. Lindsay of New York City on Thursday called for a "short-term and foolish" cut in anti-poverty funds for summer youth activities or face the threat of riotous Negro ghettos this summer. He has no way of knowing this summer will bring but he knows that if violence breaks out among the young people of the ghettos he is in its vanguard," he told the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

He said the teenagers of the slums are not as innocent as they are portrayed in the media and they must learn to live in the "heat of a mob."

New York was "lucky" to have avoided last summer without serious racial disturbances, Lindsay said partly because of an extensive program of providing summer jobs and recreational opportunities for slum youths.

This year Congress and the office of economic opportunity has reduced funds for summer youth activities in all major cities, he said. "In a time of rising tensions in the ghettos, I submit it is both shortsighted and foolish to grant only token support this year to programs which demonstrated their effectiveness during the heat of last summer," Lindsay said.

"We believe the National Administration should do everything in its power to restore the funding of special summer youth programs to last year's level," he said.

CORE LEADER WARNS
Lindsay's appeal was accompanied by a warning from Negro Leader

Floyd B. McKissick that urban ghettos were filled with "bitterness, despair and cynicism—built on the hopes you raised and dashed—the promises you made and broke" as white men.

McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), told the 500 editors at the opening session of the ASNE's annual convention that part of the blame for Negro unrest must be shared by "the white press."

He accused the news media of ignoring trouble before it erupts in violence.

The society's freedom of information committee, meanwhile, reported that President Johnson, despite "slight improvement in recent months," still tends to try to make the news sound or seem better than it is, especially on Vietnam. The so-called "credibility gap" stems at least in part from "an unjustified preoccupation with domestic political considerations" in the White House rather than candor about the course of the war.

Trackmen Test 49ers

By John Appar
Universe SportsWriter

It will be the Cougar Track Club vs. the Forty-niner Track Club Saturday in what should be one of the nation's top dual meets this season. Y Coach Clarence Robison will use the best talent on his unbeaten varsity squad, plus some freshmen standouts and even graduates, to try and stay with the California squad, which is considered the best contingent of its kind in the country.

SEVEN CHAMPS

Seven of the 24-man 49er team are former NCAA champions, and all of the members are considered Olympic hopefuls.

As a special treat the hammer throw and the 3,000 meter steeplechase will be added to the list of events which begin at 1 p.m. in the Cougar Stadium.

The Cougars will be well represented in the steeplechase with defending NCAA champion Bob Richards and former BYU star Ray Harris, who, together, could finish one-two in that event.

STELLAR STRONGMEN

In the shot put, BYU's Ken Patera (60 11") will be pitted against the 49er's John Cole, formerly of Arizona State (62 3"), and George Woods, formerly of Southern Illinois (63 11"), in one of the afternoon's top attractions.

The California club has two, each an em, seven foot high jumpers, but Coach Robison feels Ed Hanks and Dragan Andjelkovic could stay with them.

BYU sprinters Dave Reeves and Terry Tomlinson will have their hands full with former Stanford flash Larry Questad (9.6) in the century and Kentucky State's Jim Kemp (26.9) in the 220.

Cougar Tim Bonin has a 13.9 does ex-USC star Brian Polkinghorne, which should give track fans yet another top individual contest.

Bob Tobler, who owns the stadium 440 record, will be running with the 49er's Y co-captain Tom Murray will be out to push his former teammate all the way to the tape.

Cougar Netters To Swap Serves With Redskins

By Dave Hoover

Although dual meet results have nothing to do with the eventual Western Athletic Conference tennis championship, the casual tennis fan might be deceived by watching BYU and Utah smash balls today at the Salt Lake Tennis Club.

Being naturally antagonistic in everything, the two schools cherish their intense rivalry in tennis.

BYU managed to win two dual matches with the Utes last spring by identical 6-3 scores. BYU went on to win the Western Athletic Conference title by a narrow three-point margin over Utah.

Each team will present a new lineup this afternoon, although the veterans of last season will carry much of the load.

Utah still owns probably the most talented tennis star in the Rocky Mountain area in Jim Osborne, Number two players Jon Pierce of BYU and Mike Martin of Utah are seniors this year. Terry Ehlers and Harvey Battelson of BYU are battling for the third singles spot while the Utes may go with senior Frithjof Prydz or junior Harold Sears.

BYU's Keith Nielson has moved into the number 1 singles spot from a fifth slot on last year's team.

NET NEWCOMER

Playing number five singles for the Cougars this year is a newcomer, Dave George, of Sunnyvale, Calif. Cougar netters Carlos Senile and Doug Wixom are competing for the sixth spot.

The Cougars carry a 4-1 dual meet record into Friday's match with Utah. Next matches for BYU will be on May 5-6 when Arizona and Wyoming come to Provo on successive dates.

Soccermen To Log

By Bill Forrest

Belgham Young University's injury-riddled soccer club will travel to Logan, Utah, Saturday to take on Utah State's talented Aggies.

The Cougars will be without the services of three starters who are on the disabled list. Fullbacks Brad Miller and Muhammad Ashraf along with wingman Horst Mastig will be unable to make the trip. The Aggies have proven to be one of BYU's toughest over the years. In the contests between these the Cougars have won the by very narrow margins.

ATHLETES' FOOTNOTES

Too Much
Going Onby Gary Wood
Sports Editor

About the only thing wrong with spring sports at BYU is that there are too many of 'em doing well at the same time.

For those of us fans who enjoy 'most any athletic event, this weekend's sports fare is enough to cause a near-faint.

Take Saturday. At noon on the BYU baseball field the Cougar baseballers, currently owning an impressive 18-8 record, host a strong Air Force Academy nine in a twin bill.

An hour later, at one o'clock, Coach Clarence Robison's highly-regarded tracksters contest the nation's strongest track and field outfit—the 49er Club from California. It should be one of the greatest cinder attractions in the state's history.

At two in the afternoon in the Smith Fieldhouse, another sports spectacular begins. BYU's third-rated volleyball team takes on the defending UCLA Bruins in what promises to be one of the really exciting sporting events of the year. We rate top volleyball competition in the same category as basketball and ice hockey for sustained high-pitched action.

Plus, grid fans whose thoughts are already extending to next fall may want to cast a glance in the direction of the football practice field while scurrying between the above-mentioned activities to view a bit of the carryings-on of Tommy Hudspeth's gridlers.

It all adds up to an exceptional array of outstanding sports activity and it could prove to be as bewildering as the recent student body elections where even a program may not help much.

So, flip a coin or take in the track meet and send your grid friend to the hall game, your roommate to the volleyball game to take serve-by-serve notes and give your little brother a dime if he'll find out all the skinny on how the grid workout goes.

But, by all means don't miss . . . something.

No real blame for the confusion can be placed in anyone's direction, we believe.

The baseball double header and the volleyball encounter have been on the docket for some time (as has the football practice), but the Y thickside had an open date until last week and no one can fault the powers that be for scheduling the powerful 49er group.

Coch Jon Stanley's volleyballers are to take on the talented Bruins again Saturday night in the Desert Gymnasium in Salt Lake, so changing the scheduling of the Smith Fieldhouse match is out of the question.

If you spot us somewhere between the fieldhouse, stadium and field with camera, binoculars, pad and pencil and programs—wave.

Twin Bills Feature
Air Force, WildcatsBy Glen Willardson
Universe Sportswriter

Coch Glen Tuckett's baseball team begins a four-game home series with Weber State College and the Air Force Academy today.

The Cat nine meets Weber State today—first game beginning at 1 p.m. Tomorrow a twin bill against the Air Force Academy will get underway at 12 noon.

STARTING PITCHERS

Starting pitchers for BYU in today's games are sophomore Ken Crosby and Duane Gustafson. Coch Tuckett named Jan Englehardt and Bob Federaro for the mound assignment against the Falcons.

Probable starter for Weber State are Dick Wilden and Larry Pearson.

With five of the starting nine

Cougars hitting over .300 things are looking pretty bright. And when pitcher Jim Englehardt is in the lineup, there are six hatbands above the 300 mark.

CARDON TOP HITTER

Sophomore first baseman Gerald Cardon continues to lead the Cat attack from the plate with an amazing .432 average. Dennis Lamb, senior third baseman is second in hitting at .403.

Catcher Dick Clark is third with a respectable .370, while shortstop Steve Davis follows with a .359.

Leading the pitching for BYU is sophomore Englehardt, who has won 5 and lost one (to the University of Southern California). Englehardt has struck out 67 in 51 innings and has four shutouts in his credit. His earned-run average of .088 is one of the best in the nation.

Y Cowboys
In Montana
For RodeoBy Dennis Read
Assistant Sports Editor

The Brigham Young University rodeo team, with six wranglers, three cowgirls, a couple of horses and several saddles, has departed for the Montana State Intercollegiate Rodeo to be held this weekend at Bozeman.

While their chilly winds are known to blow pretty cold in Montana this time of year, inside the huge MSU fieldhouse the temperature will be strictly on the warm side.

College rodeo teams from throughout the Intermountain West—especially Montana schools—are gathered there for the third-day roundup, and the action will get pretty wild.

The Cougar cowboys are ropers Kent Shiozawa and Burt Randall and riders Elray Hendricks, Jack Nalder, Grant Fox and Jerry Meyers. Meyers also competes in the roping events.

Last year the Y wranglers placed second behind the hosting MSU Bobcats who usually find their strongest team for the home town meet. Jerry Meyers was top man for BYU with a first place in the Brahma ball riding.

So far this season the Provo ranch hands have captured two second place rodeo victories and one fourth. Only Utah state stands ahead of them in the current region team standings.

Outstanding Educators To Be Honored at Spring Meeting

Early papers will be read and outstanding educators will be honored at the spring meetings of the Utah Academy of Sciences, held at Utah State University today.

Final contests and award assemblies for the top high school students in the state will be held by the Utah Academy of Sciences at Utah State University today. John Hale Gardner of BYU, president, said hundreds of the state's leading scientists and teachers will attend the senior meetings today. They will convene at universities and colleges in the state, industry, foundation and other educational institutions.

SESSION MEETINGS

The affair will begin in the USU building at 2 p.m. with sessions in biological sciences, letters, education, economics, social science, and business meeting will be held in the USU building theater at 8 p.m.

A banquet, distinguished speakers will be presented to Edgar H. Walker, dean of the College of Agriculture and Forestry at Utah State University. Dr. Jewell J. Rasmussen, president of the Utah Academy of Sciences at Utah State University, will work in the field of taxation and resources.

AWARDS

Numerous teaching awards will be presented to Frank Hammeikar, sciences teacher at Hillcrest School, Salt Lake County, and to Robert H. Brown, biology teacher at Hill High School, Ogden. Gardner will preside at the meetings in place of Dr. David M. University of Utah, president.

dent, who is on assignment in Germany.

Events of the Junior Academy will get under way Saturday at 9 a.m. with the science reporting competition in the USU Union Building. The top dozen students in the state high school science reporting contest will read papers on research which they have conducted and then defend their findings before a panel of scientists.

Separate sections will be held in the fields of biological and physical sciences.

ASSEMBLY

The awards assembly will be held at 2 p.m. in the Union Building Theater. Honored will be the winners in science reporting, the top three students in the statewide mathematics contest, and the top three students in the Science Talent Search.

The Science Talent Search competitors must take a national examination, write a science project report, and submit to an interview. The winners are chosen on a combination of these.

BYU, USU, U. of U. and Weber State College all have offered these outstanding students scholarships which will be presented at the awards assembly.

Field Day Saturday For Animal Science Majors

The annual Animal Science Field Day will be Saturday, at the BYU Dairy Farm in Spanish Fork and the BYU Animal Science Laboratory in Provo.

The morning's activities involve the judging of poultry and grading of eggs; the grading of meat and carcasses; and the rating of different classes of dairy cattle.

Poultry and meat grading will take place at the BYU Animal Science Lab. Dairy judging will be at the Dairy Farm in Spanish Fork. Contests will start at 8:30 a.m.

Teams from the state sponsored by the Future Farmers of America will compete with each other, and college students will compete with each other in a separate class.

The afternoon's activities will include the judging of livestock and dairy products, including the rating of butter and cheese. An awards banquet in the evening will feature Dr. Bart Carden as guest speaker on the importance of animal agriculture. He is in the feed and grain business in Arizona, and an expert in nutrition.

YU Math Department...

Fletcher Named Prof. Of Month

Dr. Harvey J. Fletcher, BYU professor of mathematics, was named April's Professor of the month at Thursday's Forum Assembly.

Dr. Fletcher is from New York City. After attending his freshman year at BYU he transferred to UT, where he received a B.S. degree. In 1948 he received his M.S. degree from California Institute of Technology, and in 1954 his Ph.D. degree in mathematics from the University of Utah.

When Dr. Fletcher came to BYU

in 1953 there was no mathematics Dept. and he was the only mathematics instructor with a Ph.D. Since that time, it has become the largest non-graduate department in the university and has 17 members with Ph.D.'s.

Dr. Fletcher has served as chairman of the Math Dept. and chairman of the Rocky Mountain Mathematical Association, as well as the Utah State Math contest. He has also served on the curriculum committee for the Utah Council of Higher Education.

The father of five, Dr. Fletcher has served as a bishop of a campus ward for three years and is currently counselor in the Provo Oak Hills Ward.

He worked on the planning of the first Telstar Satellite and in the Apollo space program from 1961-1964.

Dr. Harvey Fletcher... Professor of the Month.

Elder Milton R. Hunter To Speak Here Monday

Elder M. Hunter... to discuss archaeology Monday.

Elder Milton R. Hunter of the First Council of Seventy of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will speak to members and all interested students at the meeting of Anthropology-Archaeology club 7:45 p.m. Monday, 357 Wilkinson Center.

Elder Hunter received his Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley in history and Anthropology, and has particularly studied archeology in relation to The Book of Mormon.

His interest has found expression in two books he has written on the subject, "Archaeology and The Book of Mormon" and "Christ in Ancient America." He has co-authored a third book, "Ancient America and The Book of Mormon," with Thomas S. Ferguson.

Win a free trip home to get money!

(Or enough Sprite to throw a loud party every night for a semester.)

Don't write home to get money. Just write a college newspaper ad for Sprite. You may win a free trip home to ask for the money in person.

What should your ad say? How tart and tingling Sprite is. And how it roars! Pizazz! Bubbles! Gushes! And tastes! (And how!) Not too sweet. Not too innocent.

PRIZES

1st PRIZE $500 IN TRAVELERS CHECKS OR 5,000 BOTTLES OF SPRITE

100 PRIZES OF $25 IN DINES

...so if you can't go home in person, you can use the telephone to make your point.

RULES

Write your ad the way you think would interest college newspaper readers.

Give it a contemporary, sophisticated flavor.

(A few swigs of Sprite will give you the idea.)

..though you don't have to buy anything to enter.)

Neatness counts a little. Cleverness counts a lot.

Your ad can be any length—if it fits this space.)

(But remember you're not writing a term paper.)

Send each ad you submit to Ads for Sprite,

P.O. Box 55, New York, New York 10045.

All entries become the property of The Coca-Cola Company. None will be returned. Judges' decision final. Entries must be received by May 2, 1967. Be sure to include name and address. Winners will be notified by May 24, 1967.

'Twiggyism' Losing...

Designer Points Out Change

by Gay Pauley
UPI Women's Editor

New York (UPI) — Julian Tomchin quietly revolutionizes fabric design but speaks out sharply about what's doing in the fashion world.

Twiggy, for instance, gets a connoisseur. So do the experts who go around issuing fashion ultimatums.

Tomchin, whose fabrics are in wardrobes of some of the nation's most fashionable women, writes Twiggy off as strictly "a product of the European Press." She has nothing to do with fashion. She looks like a boy and I'm in the women's dress business." He accused the "women's."

In another vein, Tomchin says, "I can't hear fashion dictums. Neither should the consumer."

SECURITY

"The woman who reads that 'black is back' and then worries about it is never going to be elegant," said Tomchin. "Elegance is security."

It is, said Kenneth Lane, expressed it wonderfully the other day.

Lane is the Detroit-born jeweler who has been converting fashionable women to inexpensive, frankly fake jewelry. Now, he's going into design using precious and semi-precious stones.

As Lane put it, "I've been designing for secure ladies. Now I'll be designing for insecure people who need something real."

Tomchin also questions those fashion experts who predict the comeback of "romantic" clothes. If they mean softer-looking fashions — away from the hard finish fabrics, the geometric silhouettes, he agrees. "For this is the direction," he says.

STATE OF MIND

But as for romance, "It's a state of mind. You can't send it to the dry cleaner. There are women who can put in millions of yards of pink satin and lace, and they'll still be hard."

Fashion changes are a natural progression, he feels. "No matter what they say, women are logical."

Women never buy what they already have... but build onto a wardrobe, depending on what their husbands like, what they look well in, what colors they've taken to. That is why the progression is from hard fashion to softer, he said.

PRINT BLOWUP

"It used to be," said Tomchin, "that if a woman bought a print dress and you asked her to describe it, she'd say, 'Oh, it's just blue.' Now she'll tell you not only that it's a print, but detail every color in it."
